

MOTIVATION LETTER FOR JOB APPLICATION

01/01/20..

Brown Christopher
Managing Director
Animal Inc.
200 Animal Avenue
Rural City, CA 20000

Dear Mr. Christopher

My name is John Douglas, and I am a Cornell University Animal Science student. I'm responding to the Animals Inc. website's need for volunteers. This opportunity piqued my interest because I have a natural interest in animal welfare, which I am pursuing via my studies.

I grew up on a farm in rural Colorado, surrounded by animals. I was active in many facets of animal care during this time, including dog training, horse grooming, and cow milking. I enjoyed spending time with our pets and learned how rewarding their company can be. I also learned the value of animal care's less glamorous aspects, such as cleaning trash and pens to make our animals comfortable.

My studies in Animal Science have taught me even more about animal care, such as how to identify and treat animal ailments and how to assist animals in giving birth. I believe these abilities, combined with my agricultural expertise, would be extremely beneficial to you at Animal Inc.. I also believe I could learn a lot more at your company to supplement my education.

I'm particularly interested in working at Animals Inc. Animal Shelter because you take in such a wide variety of animals. I particularly admire your shelter's no-kill policy and dedication to providing long-term care for elderly animals. These policies reflect my personal view that all animals deserve the opportunity to live a long life and find a forever home, regardless of how long it takes.

Finally, I believe I would be a valuable asset to Animals Inc. Animal Shelter, and I hope you will accept my volunteer application. If you have any queries about my application, please contact me at johnd@email.com Or 918-100-1000.

Sincerely
